Ohio Construction Conference convenes today at COSI – register on-site

WHO: Everyone doing business in the AEC industry
WHEN: Tues., Feb. 17, 2009, 7 a.m. – 7:30 p.m.
WHERE: COSI, 333 W. Broad St., Columbus, OH 43215

It's not too late to attend the Ohio Construction Conference, held today at COSI. Sessions will run from 7 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. and prices range from $80 for a single session to $225 for a full-day. This is a unique opportunity to rub elbows with contractors, architects, engineers and owners – all in the same location.

You won't want to miss the grand finale to the day's schedule: Join Us at the Table: Small Group Discussions Lead by Owners

To wrap up the day of dialogue, participants will join construction owners at small roundtables to discuss challenges we face as an industry. With a wide range of specialties and

The event is made possible through the support of our generous corporate sponsors:

BX WORKERS' COMP GROUP RATING PROGRAM

Group rating saves employers money

Take advantage of one of Ohio's premier group rating programs - the Builders Exchange of Central Ohio and the Buckeye Workers' Compensation Alliance administered by Compensation Consultants, Inc. (CCI).

Since implementing the multi-tiered group rating Alliance, the BX workers' comp program continues to offer the best possible premium savings options.

CCI has saved BX members more than $81 million in workers' compensation premiums, and your BX membership may already qualify you for the group.

Now more than ever, you need an accurate projection of where your workers' comp program will be for the new year.

"While employers may anticipate reduced workers compensation premiums due to reduced payrolls, many may find that their workers' compensation premium calculation is not as simple as they might think," stated Andre Bradley, vice president of Compensation Consultants.

"Ohio's workers' compensation rate calculation takes into account a number of variables, such as the amount of claim losses an employer is expected to have based on their payroll size and type. When payroll shrinks, so does an employer's expected amount of losses in the rating calculation. The result can mean higher rates due to reduced payrolls. The best way to forecast your workers' compensation premium is to contact your third party administrator."

Take control of your bottom line now! If your company is participating in another group rating program, you can potentially save thousands more with the BX/Buckeye Alliance. Companies who did not previously qualify due to a penalty rating may qualify this year.

Current members of the BX group will be automatically re-enrolled for the 2009/10 year as long as they continue to meet criteria.

Because group rating has a short enrollment period with the BWC, it is important for employers to apply immediately for savings on their 2009/10 premiums. For a no-cost, no-obligation analysis of your potential premium savings, contact CCI at 800/837-3200, info@ccitpa.com or apply online at bx.org, choose Discount Services, then Group Rating.

Look for the Builders Exchange of Central Ohio logo on all workers' comp marketing materials to be sure you receive the best service!

Coopers create the Liberty Scholarship through gift to Exchange Foundation

The "Liberty Scholarship" has been endowed by Doug and Janice Cooper (Liberty Construction Services, Inc.) as a gift to the Builders Exchange Foundation to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the firm's founding.

The Cooper's gift will establish a perpetual fund to be administered by the Foundation, with proceeds awarded as annual scholarships for students in construction-related fields.

"What a great story, at a time when our industry needs to hear good news," said Jim Rost (Nationwide Realty Investors, Inc.), Foundation board president. "To have watched Doug get involved at the Exchange as a young member, stay involved as he started his own business and then give back to the industry like this is fantastic."

Doug Cooper received the BX President's Award for volunteerism in 2007, recognizing his service as an Exchange education instructor, safety awards judge, student outreach speaker and "Idea Exchange" group member.

"The Builders Exchange is there for our members, in good times and in bad," Cooper said, noting the BX was a helpful connection as he and Janice made the decision to start Liberty Construction Services.

"When we decided five years ago to step out in faith and launch a construction company, we knew how tough this industry could be," said the nearly 30-year industry veteran. Citing their faith as the catalyst that steadied the young entrepreneurs, he said, "I want people in our industry who are going through a change – in your job, in your life – to know that you will survive. If your priorities are right, it will be okay."

Primary owner Janice Cooper said that creating a perpetual scholarship fund appealed to her because "it's a gift that continues to give, year after year. We feel it's a great blessing, to us and to others to be able to give."

"And we want to send a message that we believe in our great industry and the great people that we get to work with. It's a small way for us to continue the tradition of generosity that we have benefited from in our lives."

For more information on how your family or company can endow a perpetual scholarship through the BX Foundation, contact Executive Director Cathy Blackford at the Exchange.

To show their faith in the future of the industry, Janice and Doug Cooper (Liberty Construction Services, Inc.) created a perpetual scholarship at the Builders Exchange Foundation. Beginning this year, the Liberty Scholarship will be awarded annually as part of the BX Scholarship Program.

Spread the word!

Applications for the 2009-2010 BX Scholarships are currently available at bx.org. Get the word out to your employees, family and friends – anyone studying for a career in the industry – that students seeking degrees in a variety of construction-related fields are eligible to apply.

Individual awards range from $500 to $2,000 and will be awarded in the spring. Recipients will be selected on the basis of financial need, academic achievement, extracurricular activities and the potential impact the individual may have on the central Ohio construction community.

For more information about the Scholarship Program, contact Deb Murphy or Kelly Purcell at the Exchange today.

OSHA 10-Hour Training Course

OSHA 10-Hour Training Course benefits all employees

When you attend the OSHA 10-Hour Training Course, you will learn:

- to work more safely and to help keep others safe
- about OSHA hazards and violations in a variety of different trades
- how to prevent OSHA violations and minimize fines for your company

In addition, students who successfully complete the class will receive wallet-sized course completion cards from the OSHA Training Institute in Chicago.

The BX offers the OSHA 10-Hour Training Course several times a year, with the next session Tuesday and Thursday, March 10 and 12.

The program begins with registration and a continental breakfast from 7:30 to 8 a.m., followed by the class from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Jason Savasta (RiskControl360) will conduct the class.

The course covers 10 of the most dangerous and common hazards in the construction industry, including:

- fall protection
- scaffolding safety
- stairways and ladders
- excavations
- electrical safety
- personal protective equipment
- fire protection and prevention
- hand and power tools
- safety program and training
- hazard communication

The cost is $129 per person for participants in the BX Workers' Comp Group and $209 for other BX members. For nonmembers the cost is $369, and nonmembers must pay in advance.

A volume discount of 10 percent is offered for companies sending five or more participants, and 20 percent for companies sending 10 or more participants.

To receive refunds, cancellation requests must be received one week in advance.

To register, call Mary Logan at the BX.

BX ONLINE DISPLAY ADVERTISING

Branding - more important than ever

Check the history books. Companies who stayed in business during past recessions continued to brand their business. It's the most important way to secure the loyalty of your current customers, find new ones, and grow your business.

You don't have a dime to spare so put your money where it matters. You'll gain maximum visibility in the commercial construction industry with an online display ad on the BX website. The BX online directory was searched 11,843 times in January. And, current online display advertisers received 61% of these visits with nearly half of these visitors clicking through to visit the advertisers' website.

That's proven results for your advertising dollars. No time to design an ad? No problem! Let the BX custom design an ad for your company for only $275 (prorated price through Aug. 31, 2009).

For more information about increasing your brand visibility, contact Becky Covey or Sanda Elkins at the Exchange.

OUTREACH PROGRAM PAYS FUTURE DIVIDENDS

Have you invested in tomorrow?

Students today are overwhelmed with career options. Whether or not they intend to go to college, our industry offers many options - options they might overlook as a possibility.

Know a student who has interest in...

Writing? Practically all of the specialty trades in construction need basic writing skills for job reports. Management uses writing skills to communicate to all employees.

Working with their hands? From carpentry to painting, masonry to landscaping, construction offers many careers that rely on craftsmanship exclusively through physical labor.

Changing routines? Construction offers careers that move you from city to city and even state to state in some cases. Projects may have similarities but are never the same.

Design or art? Engineering and architecture are two construction career options that utilize the skills of design. From computerized drafting programs to the old pencil and paper method, art is important in the early stages of construction. Skilled trades demand a level of craftsmanship that displays its own unique artistry.

Moving up the ladder? Construction offers incentives to employees who work hard. Individuals have the opportunity to start out as a laborer or other skilled trade and move into management as their expertise and drive to learn increases.

The BX Student Outreach program is designed to share information with students about construction and construction careers. By getting into middle and high school classrooms, Outreach speakers explain not only what they do in the industry but how hobbies and interests of the students can develop into a lasting career in construction.

More than 55,000 central Ohio students have been reached since the program was started, and more are lining up everyday! For more information or to become a speaker, call Deb Murphy or Kelly Purcell at the Exchange, 614/486-9521.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

IT solutions made easy

In today's tight economy, when companies can't afford an IT staff, they need to outsource.

To this end, the BX has an agreement with EasyIT which gives members a 12% discount on hourly rate services.

EasyIT provides IT solutions that are both stable and simple, allowing their clients the freedom to address their core business issues - with no worries about IT concerns.

"In many of our initial meetings with clients, they tell us, 'We can't work, we can't connect, we can't restore, we can't DO things!'" stated George Jones, sales director at EasyIT.

"Our approach is to replace their reactive processes with a proactive program, giving our clients the confidence that issues can be addressed quickly - before they become serious problems or major business interruptions."

EasyIT services include:

- IT outsourcing
- Enterprise infrastructure design and support
- Network security
- Disaster recovery planning

- Router/switch configuration
- Managed help desk
- Network management, monitoring, analysis and troubleshooting
- Virus and spam-screening products
- Firewall implementation and configuration
- Application/database integration
- Custom application development
