What helps you to be a better attorney?

In my work life, I am helped to be a better attorney because of my legal experience of almost 24 years with 85-90% of my practice focused on consumer and business bankruptcy law. I am licensed to provide legal services for clients in three states (Ohio, Missouri, and Illinois) and I have experience with the 8th circuit court of appeals and Bankruptcy Appellate Panel. I participate regularly in Bar Association Bankruptcy Law committees and with legal groups like the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys and the Credit Education Coalition. I also present legal seminars on bankruptcy law to other attorneys and I volunteer annually to handle legal matters on a pro-bono basis for disadvantaged people. In my personal life, my whole family volunteers for a soup kitchen for battered women and their families. Besides being immensely rewarding, I find that the volunteer work helps me keep in touch with the struggles of real people and the reality of how often financial problems lead to personal problems and vice versa.

What makes your law firm unique?

I think my firm is unique because of my personal attention, my passion for bankruptcy law, and my compassion for people in financial trouble. I continually work to strengthen and update my knowledge of ever-changing bankruptcy laws to the benefit of my clients. My clients' legal matters are never passed off to a paralegal or younger attorney as happens sometimes in larger firms. As a sole practitioner, I provide clients with my personal attention and communicate regularly with them, handling every detail of their cases, from start to finish. I wouldn't have it any other way.

Describe your personal interests and hobbies.

In addition to the regular volunteering my whole family does at a soup kitchen for battered women and their families, my husband and I both volunteer in our children's classrooms and their school and sports activities. Soccer is well-loved in our house! I serve on the Board of Directors of the Crew Soccer Foundation, the charitable arm of Major League Soccer's Columbus Crew. The Crew Soccer Foundation works to advance the sport of soccer and quality of life of Central Ohio's young people. Their activities include an annual Referee Scholarship for economically disadvantaged teens and the donation of Crew game tickets to local children's organizations. Through the Crew Soccer Foundation's Soccer Aid, over $36,000 has been raised in the last five years for the Mid-Ohio Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

Why did you decide to become an attorney?

During my time as a human resource representative, I learned that my job was more to protect the company's assets than to do the right thing. Therefore, I started attending law school at night while working in human resources during the day with the goal of one day becoming an attorney, starting my own practice, and helping employees who have been wronged by their manager and ignored by their human resource representative.

What helps you to be a better attorney?

Besides my human resource experience, I believe that my past experience as a claims adjuster in the insurance industry helped me to become a strong negotiator. My experience as a trained mediator and arbitrator has helped me to look at all sides of an issue and to help negotiate good results for my clients through skillful negotiation tactics.

What makes your law firm unique?

We are unique because of our faith and strong desire to do what is right. The Firm was founded on the principle as set forth in 2 Corinthians 9:12 "This service that you perform is not only supplying the needs of God's people but it is also overflowing in many expressions of thanks to God."

Describe your personal interests and hobbies.

When I am not working (which is rare these days), I try to spend the remaining waking hours with my wife and children.

Describe your charitable activities.

My primary charitable contribution is paying tithes and offerings to my church. I also volunteer time to speak to groups about employment related issues from legal questions, to interview skills and preparation and everything in between. With my fraternity, I volunteer my time helping raise funds for several local and national non profit organizations on an annual basis.

Why did you decide to become an attorney?

I believe that I was always destined to be an attorney. Even as a child, I was a natural problem solver and a great listener. These traits make an excellent attorney.

What helps you to be a better attorney?

My work in the banking industry taught me valuable customer service skills and how to navigate the financial system, which prepared me to be an estate planning attorney. Also, being a member of a large family taught me to be a people person. My mother is one of twelve children and my father is one of five children. All of my aunts, uncles and cousins have different backgrounds and different ways of thinking. Interacting with a large family taught me to relate to all types of people and to approach situations in a unique way.

Describe your ideal client.

I welcome all clients and all matters, small, large, complicated and simple. My fees are affordable and I work hard to make my legal services as effective as possible. I offer flat fees for some estate planning services and can work out a payment plan if needed for other services.

Describe your personal interests and hobbies.

I am a fan of Jane Austen novels and all movies based on her novels. I enjoy reading Jane Austen novels because of the strong female characters in them. I admire that these women were able to accomplish extraordinary things during a time when a woman's social freedom was limited. I also enjoy travel. I try to go someplace every year. I am also quite the armchair traveler because I watch travel shows and read travel magazines whenever I have the time. My favorite travel shows are "Rick Steve's Europe" and "Samantha Brown's Passport to Europe." My favorite travel magazines are "Conde Nast Traveler" and "National Geographic Traveler."

Describe your charitable activities.

I provide legal services to the low income community through Legal Aid Society of Columbus. I also work with young students to foster their interest in the law. This year, I am coaching a team of high school students for Ohio's Mock Trial competition. I do these things because I believe that all people who need legal services should have access to them, and that it is important to motivate students who have an interest in the law.

How can you afford a commercial during the Golden Globes?

For more than 50 years, the Columbus Bar Association has been a trusted resource for Ohioans seeking legal information or trying to find an attorney. Consumers trust the reputation of the Columbus Bar and look to us for reliable attorney referrals.

Our Lawyer Referral Service is the source of more than $2.5 million in new business to Columbus Bar members. Our experienced Lawyer Referral Service operators helped over 40,000 callers last year alone. Lawyer Referral registration and percentage fees are used to advertise the service with high quality television advertising, currently running on 10TV and WCMH.

With the addition of ColumbusLawyerFinder.com, we now offer Columbus Bar members another opportunity to increase their market share on the World Wide Web. This user-friendly website provides valuable information to consumers who need legal advice and directs them to one of our CLF attorneys. And, our efforts to increase traffic through sophisticated search engine marketing ensure that attorneys listed on ColumbusLawyerFinder.com get proven results. By combining ColumbusLawyerFinder.com monthly attorney fees, we are able to develop a consumer-friendly commercial for viewing during peak times to reach the largest audience. That's how we were able to air a ColumbusLawyerFinder.com commercial during the Golden Globe Awards earlier this week.

Allocating your marketing dollars in tough economic times can be challenging. By joining the Lawyer Referral Service and/or ColumbusLawyerFinder.com, you can get the most out of your advertising dollars. For more information, call 221-4112 or visit www.cba.law.org or www.columbus-lawyerfinder.com.

Members Promoted on NBC

The Columbus Bar Association's 11-page "micro-site" on NBC4.com (as the exclusive "4YourLifestyle" legal partner) is successfully promoting the Columbus Bar, our members, products, and services. If you haven't yet seen the Columbus Bar on nbc4.com, go to (<http://ww2.wcmh.com/global/Category.asp?c=151242>) to explore our content and the two different television commercials we'll be running all year on NBC4 by clicking the video screen.

The Columbus Bar also has banner ads rotating regularly through various pages of the NBC4.com site, encouraging the public to turn to the Columbus Bar when they are seeking an attorney. Those banner ads have garnered 113,000 online impressions since they started appearing in late November.

Columbus Bar participation in the NBC marketing continues to be analyzed for effectiveness in driving new client traffic to products like Columbus LawyerFinder.com and the Lawyer Referral Service. More consumers are calling our phone lines that have seen the commercials on NBC and visitor traffic to ColumbusLawyerFinder is up in multiple categories. Most importantly, in just one month, we've seen a 21.01% increase in our Google visitor traffic. We also continue to be ranked among the top ten sites on Google for searches like "Columbus Lawyers" or "Columbus Attorney" and we attribute some of that positioning to our strong presence on NBC.

Mock Trial Judges Still Needed

District mock trials need attorneys to serve as judges for the 2009 competition, Friday, January 30. The case this year is on immigration policy, concerning a new school district resolution requiring students to show proof of U.S. citizenship or legal status in the United States before participating in extracurricular activities. The mock trial will focus only upon the Fourteenth Amendment issue, whether the school district's resolution is rationally related to a legitimate governmental interest. If you are interested in participating, contact Mahjabeen Qadir at MQadir@ag.state.oh.us or 614.644.0177.
