Recession-proof yourself: Taking control in a down economy

June 16 @ 1 pm (60 minutes)
The economy is out of whack, but your lawyer life doesn't have to be. Whether you have a job or not, this teleconference will help you stand strong on the market's shaky ground. Listen in and gain confidence in your career path progress and spending decisions. Cordell Parvin: Career coach. Keep on track in good times and bad by creating a business plan, updating your resume and diversifying your practice. Susan Berson: Author of "Recession-Proof Your Practice" for the ABA Journal and The Modern Rules of Personal Finance for Professionals. Deal effectively with your financial situation — whether you have a job or not. Catherine Sanders Reach:

Beyond the "group hug": Staying positive in a down economy

June 30 @ 1 pm (30 minutes)
Whether you're helping your friends or yourself, this teleconference will help you restore morale, both at home and in the office. Learn what you need to know to help your laid-off lawyer friends and colleagues find the motivation to get out of their pajamas in the morning. Michael Brandwein: internationally recognized expert on communication and leadership and author of Learning Leadership. Known for his highly practical, use-it-immediately approach. Staying positive and motivated. Alleviating stress and depression in a down economy. Doing well by doing good: helping others while helping yourself through public service.

At the Annual Meeting 2009

Today, we honor three of our members who have contributed extraordinarily to the Columbus Bar and to the community.

John C. Hartranft Sr. is this year's recipient of the Bar Service Medal presented to a member who has a long history of distinguished service to the Bar. John has been a part of the Columbus Bar for more years than he would like to admit. After graduating from Harvard and law school at the University of Michigan, John started his legal career and affiliation with the Columbus Bar almost simultaneously. When called upon, John has done whatever we ask — chair a task force faced with difficult issues such as racial profiling and sexual orientation, lead the unauthorized practice of law and audit committees, start new initiatives, hold all Board of Governor offices — board member to past president, and now lead the senior lawyers group. And for the Bar Foundation, John participated on not one but two long-range planning committees and as an advisor to their Lawyer to Lawyer Fund. It is with great affection that we salute John, our own "Man for All Seasons."

Hartranft

The Professionalism Award is given to Phil Moots in recognition of exceptional dedication to the standards of the profession and for demonstrated integrity and humanitarian concern. Phil graduated from Ohio State and Harvard Law School, after which he began his long and distinguished service to the community, both teaching and practicing employment law. A long-time member of the Columbus Bar and the Bar Foundation,

Moots

Phil served as chair and member of our insurance subsidiary, CBS Agency, Inc., for ten years. Phil spends many additional hours in service as president of the Legal Aid Society and as chair and member of numerous other boards. In his spare time he writes extensively about employment, higher education and religious institution legal issues; and he makes frequent presentations on legal and policy issues to national and regional gatherings of college and university trustees, administrators, faculty and attorneys. We offer congratulations to Phil, a most deserving recipient.

Each year an out-going committee chairperson is recognized for exceptional leadership. This year's recipient, Jamie Zitesman, not only exhibited leadership for the real property committee, but showed extraordinary commitment to the Columbus Bar as a whole. Jamie participated in focus groups, developed CLE programs, wrote articles, recruited new members and generally did anything we asked of him. He is most deserving of the 2009 Presidents Award and we look forward to his continued Bar service.

Pro Bono Annual Breakfast

Kathleen Trafford and Mike Yarbrough (Frost Brown)

Judges John Hoffman, Carrie Glaeden and Judge Guy Reece

Attorney General Richard Cordray

Columbus Bar President Kathleen Trafford thanked everyone present for performing over 30,000 pro bono hours in 2008 and introduced Attorney General Richard Cordray, Judge Elizabeth Gill, Magistrate Dee Krippel, Judge Carrie Glaeden, Judge John Hoffman, Judge William Klatt, Judge Guy Reece, Judge Stephen McIntosh, and Chief Magistrate Mark Froehlich who collectively provided an overview of their respective courts, their pro bono programs and the nature of current unmet need. Attorney General Cordray focused on the need for volunteer attorney mediators in the housing foreclosure crisis. Judge Klatt (chair, OSBA 10th District Court of Appeals Pro Bono committee) noted the culture of pro bono in Columbus that enjoys the support from both law school clinics, Legal Aid, the judiciary, the private bar, and the Columbus Bar. The judges thanked everyone for their commitment to pro bono and encouraged all lawyers to volunteer to take one case a year, noting if every lawyer took one case, it would make a difference in the efficiency of the courts and in the lives of the poor.

LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Playing Well with Others
Being an ethical, respectful and responsible community member.

Tuesday, Jun 23,
5:30pm - 7:30pm

@ The Columbus Bar
Speaker: Andrew Baker (Baker Law Group) believes ethics are at the heart of the best career and practice-building plans. Learn about the ethical and moral foundations of local leaders and colleagues as you examine the principles to guide your personal and professional life. In addition to small group discussion, Mr. Baker's presentation, "The Ethics of Networking: Building your Relationships vs. Building your Rolodex," will focus on how ethical considerations can help new attorneys lay the foundations for their own successful and productive networks.

Attorney Opportunity

Am Law 200 firm with new office in Columbus seeks partner level candidates with a portable book of business. Labor & employment law of particular interest. Please forward resumes to: Staffing@CBAlaw.org and reference Posting No. 2323.

ColumbusLawyerFinder.com Founder Stacy Shumacher

Why did you decide to become an attorney? Becoming an attorney was a childhood dream of mine. However, mostly due to financial reasons, I did not attend law school until I had worked eight years in the insurance industry. I never felt like I was making a difference at the end of the day and my "desk job" lacked any satisfaction for me. When I became licensed and started handling my first cases, I knew pursuing a career in law was the right decision for me and I have not regretted it since.

Shumacher

What experiences help you to be a better attorney?

Having spent time in another career and some time just getting older, I shared in some of what life has to offer - renting an apartment, buying a house, leasing a car, raising children, planning and balancing a budget, paying down debts, planning for retirement, managing a career and family and still finding time for myself. I've been a full-time working mom, I went back to school with two children and one on the way. All of these experiences and more help me to relate to my clients and to better understand their individual needs.

What made you choose your primary area of law?

While I was still in law school I made a conscious decision to concentrate my studies in family law. I knew that was one field where I would have the opportunity to make a very real and tangible difference in people's lives. Even though this area of practice can be emotionally difficult at times, I have a passion for my work.

What makes your law firm unique?

There are a number of qualified domestic relations attorneys in the Columbus area, but I think what sets me apart from my fellow family law practitioners is the depth of my caring for the well being of my client and their family. The litigation process can be costly and very damaging emotionally. A goal for my practice is to minimize the emotional conflict the best I can and to promote timely settlements whenever possible.

Describe your personal interests and hobbies.

I love my job, but when I'm not working, I'm probably coaching one of my kids' soccer teams, or watching my oldest daughter play softball. But, if I'm not doing one of those things, and it's football season, I hope I'm watching the Buckeyes play!
